

THOUSANDS SEE COMPANIES D AND E DEPART FOR SOUTHERN TRAINING CAMP IN THE MIDST OF A DRIVING RAINSTORM

Lack of Cars Delays Entrainment Until About 10.30; Special Pulls Out at 11 O'clock While Heavens Weep Copiously; Soldiers Cheerful but There are Many Sad Hearts Among Station Crowd; Cheers and Blasts of Auto Horns as Train Disappears in the Darkness.

SICK MEMBER OF LOCAL COMMAND LEFT BEHIND

Entraining during the course of one of the hardest rains of the season, the Tenth Pennsylvania Infantry, left last night at 11 o'clock, three hours after schedule time, for Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga. Here the boys will go through a short period of training. They—perhaps to France and the battle line.

Thousands who had seen, sweethearts, and friends in the company waited for four or five hours, at armory or station, to see the boys off. During all this time, one shower after another was falling. Just as the train pulled out, however, came the greatest downpour of all, and many were compelled to seek shelter in the station waiting rooms. There were cheers and blasts of automobile horns as the train passed, and the boys leaned out of the windows to cry "Good-bye" until they were out of sight.

In spite of the fact that the boys are on their way now to the front, there were few tearful goodbyes said. Those who saw their dear ones leaving Connellsville, perhaps never to come back, bore up well, and at the train there were few of the heart-rending farewells that had been expected.

As for the troops themselves, they were cheerful to the last degree. They insisted that they were merely going away for a little trip, and that it was a case of "I'll be back again," but not "good-bye." One man, a sergeant in the company, shaking hands with his friends, said, "I'm coming back, never fear about that," while another declared, when some one wished him good luck, "Our luck will be good, all right. We'll make it good."

Perhaps the saddest farewells were said at the armory, where mothers, sisters, and sweethearts accompanied the boys, saying with them until the last minute. Here and there a woman could be seen, in tears, with a husky soldier comforting her.

The boys began reporting shortly after 6 o'clock, and awaited impatiently for orders to leave. A big crowd gathered at the armory soon after, filling the floor, the gallery, and the offices. Between 4,000 and 5,000 people were immediately to the station, the crowd there being so immense that people stationed themselves along Water street for several blocks. As the rain continued and the coming of the boys was delayed again and again, the crowd shrank, probably to 2,000, who stuck to the last.

The schedule called for the boys to leave the armory at about 7.30, and the train to leave the station at 8.00, but early in the evening it became apparent that there was going to be a delay. Trouble in getting the railroad equipment was the cause. There was no Pullman car for the train, though one was on its way here. Captain R. S. Morton received telegrams from Major Joseph Thompson, battalion commander, to move with the Pullman and pick it up at Rockwood making a wait there in preference to here. This was agreed upon, but before the train got started from Connellsville, the Pullman had arrived.

When the Baltimore & Ohio had finally secured enough coaches for the train, four were sent to Eyerson where Mount Pleasant was enroute, then brought back here with Company E and joined to Company D's four coaches here. In addition to these coaches the train was made up of two Pullman for the officers and two baggage and two freight cars, one for each company. It was drawn by a 4000 engine.

Mount Pleasant left about 9.40 o'clock, and when they had arrived here, Captain Morton called the boys to attention at the armory, and told them to prepare to move. These orders were received with cheers, loud and loud, from the troops. At about 10.15, they left the armory, marched down Pittsburgh street to North alley, down the alley to the Baltimore & Ohio station, and entrained there. By the move down the alley, Captain Morton avoided the crowds who had been stationed for hours along Crawfordsville in the hope of seeing the boys for the last time. He could not get away from the people on Pittsburgh street, however, and here cheer after cheer was raised for the boys. Everyone applauded, and one group of men removed their hats to show their respect, though the rain was pouring down.

The train pulled out at exactly 11 o'clock. During the short wait at the station, the Company E boys made

GUARDSMEN DELUGED WITH DONATIONS OF ALL SORTS

Guardsmen who left here yesterday for the Southern training camp were showered in more ways than one. There was a veritable flood of contributions throughout the day at the armory. All sorts of eatables prepared by friends and relatives of the men, comfort kits, "housewives," candy, Bibles and testaments, cigars and cigarettes and even money were included in the donations.

Many boxes of cigars were given to the officers but all of these were turned over to the company after being opened.

At 5 o'clock the men were assembled and inspected to see if everyone was fully equipped. As the officers have always found it to be the case in the past, some of the men had mislaid parts of their equipment and there was a scurrying about the

THREE REPORTED DEAD, 23 HURT IN EXPLOSION AT FRANKFORT ARSENAL

Windows Broken and People Thrown From Beds in Vicinity by Its Force.

By Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Three persons are reported dead, one is dying, 23 others are in hospitals and a score or more are less seriously injured as the result of an explosion at the Frankfort arsenal this morning.

The dead who were all men, it is reported, were blown to pieces. Among the injured are two young women. The cause of the explosion is unknown and no information from the arsenal is obtainable.

The force of the explosion broke windows and threw those living in the vicinity from their beds. Soldiers had difficulty in keeping the crowds, which gathered from entering the grounds.

According to workers, the explosion was accidental, there being nothing to indicate that it was caused by an outside agency.

Major Montgomery, commandant of the arsenal, and his aides, are investigating the explosion and endeavoring to make any statement until they have completed their inquiries. Catechings of a workman, it is believed, was the cause of the accident.

The explosion occurred in one of three small buildings known as detonating dry rooms where the primers for three and six inch shells and small arms cartridges are dried. The building in question has its walls packed with cinders and every precaution was taken to prevent accidents. Fire followed the explosion and spread to several other small buildings known as the artillery assembly unit. In these there were three and six inch shells but prompt work of arsenal employees and city firemen saved the buildings and their contents from destruction.

Nineteen of the injured were treated at a nearby hospital. One is expected to die. Later all but five of the injured were able to go to their homes. None of those hurt was able to give a coherent account of what happened.

New York troops are guarding the arsenal and no one was permitted to enter the government's reservation. Today's explosion was the second fatal one to occur within the last five months. Two men were killed by the bursting of a shell in the big explosive building last April.

21 DRAFT ARMY MEN WILL LEAVE SUNDAY AT 8 P. M.

Advance Guard to Depart For Camp Lee on Special B. & O. Train.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE

Men Will Report at Draft Board Offices in Morning at 8 O'clock and After Being Tagged Will Be Dismissed Until 5.30 P. M.; Plan Sendoff.

Just two days after the departure of Connellsville's crack National Guard company, D of the Tenth, the first men of the Tenth region who are to go to National Army camps will leave tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

All arrangements have been completed by Draft Boards 2 and 5 for the entrainment of the first 21 men, 12 from District 2 and nine from District 5. The No. 2 men are to report to the headquarters of the No. 2 board in the Title & Trust building at 8 o'clock in the morning, while those from Zone 5 will report to the headquarters of their board, in the same building at 8.30.

At this time the men will be tagged with their names and numbers and dismissed until 5.30 in the afternoon. Those from out of town who cannot return to their homes will be given meal tickets. After reporting for the second time, they will be given their transportation.

A special train will be furnished for the boys leaving this section. Scottsdale and Mount Pleasant's first quota of men will be on the same train. The Scottsdale bunch will go to West Newton and board the train there. Mount Pleasant's quota will entrain here.

The boys will go to Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va. Seven alternates, five from Zone 2 and two from Zone 5 will report with the others but will not go to camp unless some of those actually called fail to appear.

It is expected that another immense crowd will assemble to see Connellsville's first contribution to the great National Army of the future. The armory board consisting of Captain Harry Dunn, A. B. Hood, and T. R. Cunningham, now in full charge of the state armory here, has decided that when the draft boards have another examination to make, they may have the use of the armory.

It is even quite likely that the headquarters of the two exemption boards will be moved out there on Monday, though this has not been definitely determined. The second section of men from this first draft called to report, preparatory to going to camp, will in all likelihood be stationed at the armory. When this second call will be made is not certain, but it is likely to be somewhere around the middle of September. In the meantime, the armory will be given a thorough cleaning.

The region's first National Army recruits called to report tomorrow, are: District 2.—Robert G. Dunn, Andrew J. McStay, Randall E. Sloughenwhite, Charles A. McKevitt, Jacob E. Horowitz, Harry G. Mason, Patrick J. Cunningham, George M. Swartzwelder, Ewing R. Harmon, Estlin Lindsey Rush and Stephen L. M. Richey, Connellsville; and Walter J. Shindler, Scottsdale. Alternates—Charles Clark Ralston, John R. Brown, David P. Patterson, Ignatius Friele and Walter Drew, Connellsville.

District 5.—Frank Weakland Black, William Hurby Jacobs, Clarence William Dunbar, Dickerson Run; Frederick William Joy, Jacob Ohler, Eugene Sturges Colborn, Mill Run; George Edward Reed, Vanderbilt; Robert Melchior, Leisenring; Steven McIntock, Connellsville; R. F. D. Alternates—Harry L. Gillespie, Dickerson Run; I. J. Cosell, Adelaide.

RUSS BATTERIES SHELL ENEMY SHIPS IN RIGA GULF

PETROGRAD, Sept. 8.—German warcraft have again been sighted in the Gulf of Riga and have been shelled by the Russian coast batteries, the war office announces. FRENCH RESUME THE OFFENSIVE AT VERDUN

BERLIN, April 8.—The French have resumed the offensive in the Verdun region according to today's war office statement. They attacked last night on a 50 mile front, but were repulsed. It is declared. This morning the battle was renewed.

GERMAN DRIVE IN RIGA DISTRICT REACHES ITS LIMIT

Despite the continued retreat of the Russians on the Riga front, indications are not lacking that the German drive in the region may have reached nearly its limit. This view, indeed, is taken by German military writers who point to the lateness of the season as making it improbable that Von Hindenburg intends to push his campaign further this Fall. He will be content with safeguarding his new acquisitions, the bases of Riga and Duenamunde, they intimate.

The absence of German naval cooperation on a large scale in the Gulf of Riga with the forces operating on land in the region seems to lead additional color to this view.

The Franco-Belgian front is witnessing some local infantry movements, but for the most part the artillery and the air force are the only branches of the service being actively used by either side. London reports heavy patrol fighting on the Ypres front during the night, a successful British raid near Gavrelle and the heavy shelling of Langemarck by the Germans.

The Paris statement announces local attacks by the Germans in Lorraine to the East of Rheims and on the Alsace front which were broken up by French fire.

Vienna claims the driving back of the Italians in the Hermada sector, where General Cadorna has been pushing toward Trieste. It is asserted that all the ground won by him there in the present offensive has been recovered and that more than 6,000 prisoners have been taken by the Austrians up to the present.

BERLIN GIVEN SHIP NEWS BY SWEDE OFFICIALS IN ARGENTINA

Information Allowing Destruction by Submarines Transmitted by Legation.

U. S. ISSUES STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Sweden's legation in Argentina acting as a secret means of communication between the German charge in Buenos Aires and the Berlin foreign office transmitted information of the sailing of ships and direction of their destruction by submarines, was revealed today in an official dispatch made public by the State Department.

Copies of official dispatches sent to the Berlin foreign office by Count Luxburg, the German charge in Buenos Aires in cipher through the Swedish legation there as its own communications were made public by Secretary Lansing without any comment as to how these fell into the hands of this government or any indication as to what will come as the result of these disclosures.

Besides revealing the means by which Germany used Sweden in her plottings in Argentina, the dispatches show the German charge at the time Argentina was having a critical diplomatic controversy with Germany over submarine destruction of her ships was sending through the Spanish legation news of the sailings of certain vessels with recommendations that they be sunk "without leaving any trace," and in other dispatches was informing his government how to regard Argentina's protest against the destruction of her shipping.

In the absence of official comment on the disclosures it appeared that the manifest purpose of the United States in publishing the correspondence were two: First, to show the relation between Germany and Sweden.

COKE AS A MOTOR FUEL.

Being Used in England on Trucks in Place of Kerosene.

Another new development in England is the use of coke as a motor truck fuel. An English concern which has been manufacturing steam trucks and buses for years and which has always used kerosene, has developed the coke type of steamer.

This fuel has proved entirely satisfactory as one of these trucks with a 14-horsepower engine, has run for 200 miles consumed approximately five tons of coke per mile. This put the cost of fuel at 1.3 cents per mile.

Again Chosen President.

Mrs. Kate Rittenour was elected president for the 24th successive time of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Fayette county yesterday at the closing session of the annual county convention held in the Baptist church at Point Marion. The next convention will be held in Brownsville.

AUTOMOBILES MAY BE MOBILIZED FOR USE OF PUBLIC SAFETY BOARD

Committee to Discern Registration of Motor Vehicles For Way Service.

Registration of automobiles, trucks and drivers whose services may be volunteered for use of the Committee of Public Safety within the county will be discussed at two meetings of the Committee on Motors and Motor Trucks which will be held Monday night. Chairman H. D. Hutchingson will meet members of the committee from the southern end of the county at the Municipal Building, Uniontown. Committee members from Connellsville and nearby points will meet with Executive Secretary George S. Connell in the First National Bank building here. Both meetings will begin at 7.30.

The Committee of Public Safety desires to enroll approximately 25 per cent of the automobiles in each county. This work has already been completed and efficient service rendered. Moreover, in this country have been fortunate so far in that little call has been made upon their services. The use of automobiles for pleasure is now a thing unknown in Europe. So far the government has been content with issuing a request that owners of pleasure cars economize in their use of gasoline.

Of the 25 per cent of cars it is hoped to enroll, 10 per cent are to be formed into a reserve division, subject to call at any time, day or night. Enrollment is much in the form of an enlistment as applied to owners and drivers, a pledge being obtained that they will give immediate response to any or all emergency calls. In Philadelphia, for instance, the Committee on Motors and Motor Trucks moved the Second Field Artillery, a big gun regiment, from its armory into camp. At short notice the department mobilized 50 trucks and transported 1,300 men, several batteries of heavy howitzers and vast stores of ammunition and supplies from the armory near the center of the city to a camp site some miles distant, and the work required only a few hours.

7TH CAVALRY REUNION

Veterans of Famous Civil War Regiment Coming Here Again.

The Seventh Pennsylvania Cavalry association, formed from the members of that famous Civil War regiment, will hold its reunion in Connellsville October 9 and 10. The veterans of the Seventh Cavalry had one reunion here before, and last year, when the old soldiers gathered in Mount Carmel, Clark Collins and J. J. Barnhart, local representatives in the association, asked that the 1917 affair be held in Connellsville. Incidentally, Comrade Collins is president and Colonel Barnhart vice president of the association.

Respective plans for entertainment of the veterans have been made, but the only thing definitely decided upon is a banquet at noon on October 10. Weather permitting, the dinner will be served on the lawn of Colonel Barnhart's home in Dunbar township, Sunnyside. "Sunny Jim" is planning some extra corn for the occasion, and the extra field of roasting ears, if not frozen out before the reunion, will be cleaned up by the veterans. Comrades Collins and Barnhart are asking the support and assistance of the citizens in entertaining the Seventh Cavalry boys, especially since it will be the last time the veterans will ever have their reunion here.

By Associated Press. PEORIA, ILL., Sept. 8.—At 11 o'clock tonight Peoria will cease to be the whiskey-making center of the world. Thousands of gallons of liquor will remain in warehouses here but its manufacture is today prohibited under the food conservation law.

At the end of that time to more whiskey or gin will be produced from the five big distilleries which have been furnishing one-third of the nation's supply for many years.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Another urgent appeal has been sent out by the women of Conneltsville in charge of the Red Cross sewing for more helpers in the work. The Red Cross rooms in the Federal building are open all day on Wednesday and Thursday of each week from 9 to 5 o'clock, and are large enough to accommodate many women. During the summer the rooms were open only in the morning. In an effort to have the women to turn out in larger numbers it was decided to hold all day meetings, which were inaugurated this week. On both days the attendance was very small, seven women responding on one day to the appeal, and ten on the other. This is work which should appeal to and interest every woman in Conneltsville. If Conneltsville desires to do its share in the work, the women of the city will have to respond more nobly to the cause. A number of women have been energetically sewing for the soldiers during the summer, but 50 or more sewers are yet needed before the work can successfully be carried on. Every woman who is interested in the welfare of the soldiers should volunteer their services and be on hand at the sewing next week.

An efficiency contest will be launched at Kelly Day to be observed Sunday by the Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal church. All members as well as all the younger people of the church are urged to attend.

Despite the unfavorable weather the social held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bryner in Vine street, was a great success. About 34 persons attended. The social was held under the auspices of the Woman's Guild of the Trinity Episcopal church and quite a nice sum was realized for the building fund. Various amusements were enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

Dr. Charles Lee of Pittsburg will address the members of the Baraca class of the First Baptist church at the regular session of the class tomorrow. A large turnout is desired.

A well attended meeting of the officers and teachers of the First Baptist Sunday school was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Percy in Eighth street, Greenwood. A social session was held and refreshments were served at the close of the business meeting.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the First Baptist church was held last evening at the home of the president, Mrs. J. C. McGlenathan in South Pittsburg street. The attendance was unusually large and the meeting was the best held for some time. A business meeting was held followed by a very enjoyable social session. A musical program was delightfully rendered by Mrs. A. A. Wetherell, Misses Mercedes Gladden and Josephine Riehsart. Refreshments were served. The place for holding the next meeting will be announced later.

Members of the Ladies Aid society of the Cochran Memorial Methodist church are planning to serve dinner at the Dawson Driving park during the races and fair, which begin on Tuesday. The proceeds are for the benefit of the church. The ladies served.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kincaid of Greenwood, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mayme Kincaid to William Joel Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Smith of Chicago. Owing to the illness of the bride's mother, the wedding which will be an event of the early fall will be very quiet. Miss Kincaid's resignation as clerk to C. M. Gear, superintendent of the West Penn Power company, took effect today. Her fiancé is superintendent of the timber department of the Kaunas, Missouri and Texas railroads with headquarters in Denison, Tex.

Miss Sara Kephart will return to Mount Aloysius academy at Cresson Tuesday after spending the summer vacation at her home in South Pittsburg street. Miss Mary Alene Adkins will leave September 20 for Wellesley, Mass., to resume her studies at Wellesley college. On the same date Miss Anne Donnelly and Miss Anna Sokolow will leave for Philadelphia to enter Drexel institute. Miss Donnelly was a student last year at Drexel.

Mrs. Howard Marvin gave a prettily appointed dinner last evening at her home in East Cedar avenue in honor of C. A. McKevitt, a draftee in the National Army, who leaves tomorrow night for Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va. Covers for ten were laid. The table was centered with a large vase of pink and white asters. Mrs. Marvin was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Mary McConnell.

The Daughters of America will meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Odd Fellows' hall in South Pittsburg street.

DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Lula Zearfoss Stricken While Preparing for Trip.

As she was about to leave for Somerset to visit relatives, Mrs. Lula Edith Zearfoss, 34 years old, wife of Russell Zearfoss, a Baltimore & Ohio fireman, dropped dead last night in her home in 113 South Cottage avenue. Some two or three months ago Mrs. Zearfoss was ill for about six weeks, but had entirely recovered. She was apparently in the best of health up until the time she was taken ill. She and her daughter Miss Mary Zearfoss, were about to leave their home, when she dropped to the floor. A physician was summoned but life was extinct when he arrived. Heart trouble was the cause of her sudden death.

Mrs. Zearfoss was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Holtzboer, and was a member of the Trinity Reformed church. In addition to her husband and one daughter, Miss Mary Zearfoss, she is survived by one sister, Miss Ueda Holtzboer, who resides at the Zearfoss home, but is now visiting with relatives in the West. THOUSANDS SEE CO'S D AND E DEPART.

themselves known to local people, shook hands with all the girls and bade them goodbye and obliged by singing the popular tune which bids fair to become the "official" Tenth Regiment song, popularized as it has been by the Tenth band, "I Don't Know Where I'm Going, But I'm On My Way."

At the army, during the long wait, the boys amused themselves in every way possible. Indulging in fighting, laughing, sleeping, crying "Let's go," for a time, they finally decided to sing "Where Do We Go from Here?" "America, Here's My Boy," and other popular war songs followed in quick succession, and all were greeted with applause from the gallery.

Three commissioned officers and 149 men left with the command, William Stillwagon, ill at his home here, was unable to go. Stillwagon was willing to make the journey lying on a stretcher in the kitchen car, and Captain Morton considered for a time taking him to the train in an ambulance, but finally decided upon leaving him at home. Stillwagon will follow the company to camp in about a week's time.

All in all, the night was one which will never be forgotten by many Conneltsville folks. Drenched to the skin after hours of dreary waiting, the people were yet ready with a big cheer when the boys in khaki swung along to the train, boarded it, and after a 15 minutes wait, pulled out for the South.

The detachment of the hospital corps went with Company D, boarding the train shortly before the company. This detachment included Major R. S. McKee, Walter Rogers, George Broad, Frank M. Hightberger, John W. Ramage, Clarence Smith and Harold Herwick. In the afternoon, Sergeant "C. A. McCormick, Second Staffed, Dewey Miller, Bert Blanche, James Darr, Clarence Cooper, Edgar Burke and George B. McCormick, left for Greensburg. The detachment accompanied Company I, the headquarters and supply companies, to camp. A big crowd gathered at the Pennsylvania station to see them off on the 5:36 train, and here, too, there were intensely touching farewells from friends and relatives.

Two other detachments left for Blairsville and Washington yesterday. Up until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the company was busy transporting its goods to the freight and baggage cars. Riding atop one of the big transfer wagons, Private Frank S. Zaogrie of Uniontown played some fine music on an accordion, and attracted lots of attention. Frank expects to make some of the evenings in camp pleasant for the other boys with his music.

The leave taking was not nearly so tearful as the one a year ago when the company departed for Mexican border duty. This was probably because Captain Morton had given orders for the men to say their farewells at home, dismissing them for supper. Many parents and intimate relatives of the boys made no attempt to see them off.

CLARK COLLINS AND "SUNNY" JIM SEE CO. D OFF.

Comrades J. J. Barnhart and Clark Collins were the only Civil War veterans who stuck to the end last night in seeing the boys of Company D off. Colonel Jim and Mrs. Barnhart have a boy in the company, Evans L. Barnhart, and, though drenched to the skin, they were determined to see the last of the troops, even if the train had not pulled out until this morning.

Colonel Barnhart is authority for the statement that he and Comrade Collins were the only old soldiers at the station when the train pulled out. They were both members of the same command, Company K, Seventh Pennsylvania Cavalry, during the late unpleasantness between the North and South.

THOMAS C. O'DONNELL

IN MACHINE GUN COMPANY. Thomas C. O'Donnell of Everson joined the Machine Gun company at New Brighton, Pa., and left last evening with Company E, Tenth Regiment, for Augusta, Ga. SAFETY MEETING

Labor Shortage is General. According to Report of Pittsburg Conference.

George S. Connell, executive secretary, and Benton Boyd, chairman of the civilian service committee, of the Fayette county committee of public safety, attended a conference held in Pittsburg yesterday in conjunction with the State Department of Labor and Industry. The western counties of the state were represented at the gathering at which labor and labor supply conditions were reported upon.

Relatively the same conditions as to shortage of labor supply prevail everywhere throughout the state. About the only means of relief at present in sight is to enlist more women workers in lines suitable for their employment and to maintain close touch on the situation and shift labor whenever it becomes unemployed in one section to other sections where it is urgently needed.

Considering the delay in affecting Fayette county's organization of its safety committee this body was found to have made about as much progress and achieved about as large results as some other counties and very much more than many.

Representatives from the counties having this vein coal mines report the closing down of many mines as the result of the establishment of $2.00 as the maximum mine price of their product.

DRAFTERS CLASH WITH GUARDS; WOULD NOT MARCH WITH THEM

STUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 8.—Extra policemen were today sworn in as precautionary measures to avert further clashes between members of the 10th Ohio Infantry, National Guard Army, and drafted men from Jefferson county, similar to those that occurred last night as the result of refusals of the officers of the national guard companies to permit their men to take part in a parade last night in honor of the drafted men departing for the cantonment at Chillicothe, Ohio.

According to members of the Jefferson county draft, boards the officers refused to allow their companies to participate in the parades on the ground that the drafted men had had opportunity to join the national guard and had refused to do so and therefore should be shown no signal honors.

TO FIX COAL PRICE

Garfield Announces Plan to Determine Retailers' Profits.

Consumers of coal throughout the country will be informed as to the price they should pay retail dealers in their districts and will be asked to cooperate with the fuel administration in enforcing such prices, according to an announcement of Dr. H. A. Garfield, coal dictator. State representatives will be named shortly and committees formed in every county, and in every city of more than 2,500 population. No person will be appointed as a member of these committees who is connected with the local coal industry. Each state representative will choose the citizens' committees. The county committees will ascertain and report to the fuel administration the responsible dealer's profit which should be allowed in accordance with the cost of local distribution. This margin, the transportation charge and the dealer's commission will constitute the price to the consumer. The fuel administration will make public from its local committees in each community sufficient data to enable the individual consumer to ascertain for himself the established price.

This plan, however, will hardly go into effect before cold weather has begun, and consumers have already begun their purchase of coal.

UNIONTOWN GIRL MAY LOOP LOOP WITH THOMPSON.

De Lloyd Thompson, peerless daredevil of the sky, has promised Miss Gertrude Tidlow, young daughter of George F. Tidlow, the Uniontown local, that when he eludes the clouds to loop-the-loop at the great Dawson fair next Friday afternoon, "De Lloyd Thompson Day," he will take her on the aerial journey with him.

The athletic young girl—Uniontown's Eleanor Stars—is most anxious to be one on a wing, or, at least, she thinks she is now, but is most anxious to make one flight as the fair companion of the great Thompson to ascertain just how well she likes flying and to make sure.

Friends and admirers of Miss Tidlow are satisfied that she has the requisite nerve and daring to make an exceptional aviator, as she recently piloted a highpowered racing automobile around the fast Uniontown speedway at the terrific speed—seven for a racing driver of 87 miles an hour.

The only barrier standing in the way of the great trip for the intrepid girl is the securing of the consent of her parents, and because she is going to puncture the clouds with such a master flyer as the indomitable Thompson, she is quite certain that she will be able to secure the desired permission.

When Miss Tidlow climbs into his airplane with Thompson, both hope that the silent Reaper of South with whom the business has had such a long acquaintance, he looks on it as almost a foregone conclusion that she will be an invincible competitor, but she is fully aware of the chances she must take and is willing to do so.

FIGHT FOR YOUR LIFE Duty Demands Robust Health

Fight to get it and keep it

Fight—fight day in and day out to prevent being overtaken by ill and all. Keep wrinkles from marring the cheek and the body from losing its youthful appearance and buoyancy. Fight when ill-health is coming with its pallor and pains, defects and declining powers. Fight to stay the course and drive it out.

But fight intelligently. Don't fight without weapons that can win the day for without the intelligent use of effective weapons the pallor spreads and weakness grows and a seemingly strong man or woman oftentimes becomes a prey to ill after all.

You will not find this class of persons in the hypochondria ranks. No unhealthy, dull, dragger, droopy persons in that line. It is a hale, hearty, robust aggregation of quick-steppers who view life in a joyous frame of mind and are mentally and physically equal to any emergency. Hypoferrin stands for sound body and sound mind—it is the invigorating tonic of the times—powerful and unsurpassed as a health restorer, vitalizer and health preserver.

Fight to hold the vigor of a sound body with hypoferrin or to stay the process of decay and restore health and strength—you win. This tonic of amazing, wonder-working properties has been approved by physicians as a restorer and safeguard of health. It is a thoroughly scientific preparation of the very elements necessary to tone up the stomach and nerves, to build strong, vital tissue, make pure blood, firm flesh and solid, active, tireless muscles.

Hypoferrin contains those mighty strength-producing agents, leithin-and-iron, potassium, and calcium, which are essential to the health of the human organism. It is made and sure and a boon to run-down, worn-out men and women. Hypoferrin is nature's own way of bringing color to the cheeks, strength to the body and keeping the vigor and buoyancy of youth. The powder and point way of effecting beauty is not needed by hypoferrin women and girls. Their blood, filled with nature's beauty stores, creates conditions that give firmness and grace to the body and the glow of health to the cheeks.

No need of going through life sickly and feeling miserable in this age of medicine science. Join the hypoferrin ranks. It puts into you the springy snap and vigor you ought to have and puts life into your body and mind that inspires the confidence that you confront the world on an equal footing with anyone.

Hypoferrin may be had at your druggist or direct from us for $2.00 per package. It is well worth the price. The 1 Remedies Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Sept. 8.—About 5.30 last evening the crowds started coming into town to bid farewell to the members of Company E. Special cars were put on the West Penn lines and all of them were crowded. At 6 o'clock it started raining and until just before the boys started for the station there was a steady downpour. Notwithstanding this the streets were crowded and as the boys marched by cheer after cheer went up.

Early in the afternoon relatives and friends gathered at the armory for a last farewell. Just before the men assembled when Sergeant Burns was bidding his sister goodbye and telling her that he must go to answer roll call, she fainted. Help was given her immediately and she soon recovered.

The company was led down Main street by the O. of F. A., the Canton boys and Veteran drum corps, Burgess John L. Shields, and the members of council and Spanish-American War veterans. THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE GRAPERS"—A five part Triangle feature, with Jack Devereaux in the leading role, is being presented today. The picture is a thief comedy and introduces new changes of the farcical sort and certain developments furnish an enjoyable surprise for the audience. Jack Devereaux, who made such a hit in "An Unsuccessful Failure," which was seen at the Paramount recently, appears as Jack Torpe, a millionaire whose uncle is constantly advising him to be on the guard lest he become the victim of grafters. The youth is over confident and sure of himself, so in order to teach him a lesson the uncle employs certain persons to work a swindle upon him. Anna Lear is seen as the girl in the case, who lures the young man on. Jack at first falls a victim to the same but later turns the tables on his uncle and crooks as well. He saves his uncle from a real holdup and forgives the girl for her deception and the usual love affair follows. Most of the scenes appear in the city, but others take place in a country inn, to which the girl has enticed the young man. A two reel comedy is included.

THE SOISSON.

WILLS MUSICAL COMEDY COMPANY begins a week's engagement at the Soisson on Monday afternoon. This company comes highly recommended with 10 people, consisting of clever comedians, singers and dancers and a beauty chorus said to be one of the best in the tabloid field. There will be three changes of bill and the company will present musical farces built for laughing purposes only and written around the peculiar talents of the performers who present them. Wills Lady Minstrels are featured, together with the Three Heltons, a trio of very clever people.

Today is the last opportunity to see the Conice Sisters, Gus Anderson, Harris, Smith and Gerard, Theodore Thomas, and Gaffney & Dale, a variety program that cannot be beaten in a small city house. Lots of people came to see this bill twice. Every amusement lover ought to see it once. It only costs two dimes for the best seats. "Do Children Count?" is today's motion picture offering.

THE ARCADE.

At the Arcade today Jack Root's Pretty Babies will give the final performance of a very successful week's engagement, the offering being a musical comedy, entitled, "A Trip Across the Ocean." It is a very funny farce, and that inimitable comedian, Joe Fields, makes the most of the opportunities to create laughs. He is assisted in the fun by Arthur Root and Lew Trumpette, the latter in his original vaudeville creation, the bell-boy. During the action of the play the latter sings "Shades of Night" and "Come Out of the Kitchen Mary Ann," and parodies of "You're a Dangerous Girl" and "A Little Bit of Ireland." Miss Leahy sings, "Hawaii, I'm Lonesome For You," and "Call Me a Fool." Miss Matland sings "Goodbye Broadway, Hello France." This company has scored one of the biggest hits at the Arcade and have pleased good-sized crowds at every performance this week and a record breaking crowd is expected today. Yesterday was Baby Day at the Arcade which was attended by over 500 mothers with their infants. The latter received complete sets of 14 karat beauty pins. The pictures were especially booked for the event and were "For His Child's Sake," and Charles A. Hoyt's famous farce, "A Rag Baby." Coming next week is Howells' Musical Revue, the big beauty show, featuring Eddie Pierce and Gus Rajler. This company comes direct from Gus Sun's own theatre in Springfield, O. The film show Monday will be one of Ella Wheeler Wilcox's poems.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"WILD AND WOOLLY"—One of the most recent acquisitions to the Douglas Fairbanks company is "Smile," the energetic broncho astride of which the popular star appears in "Wild and Woolly," the latest Artcraft release showing at the Orpheum theatre today. "Smile" is a cow-boy of many adventures and has stood quite a few severe tests with great credit to himself. Formerly the most prized possession of Ed Burns, the well known cow-puncher, the horse was secured by Fairbanks only as a result of the cow-boys' deep admiration for the Artcraft actor-producer. The horse assists Douglas in exceptional style during the presentation of various thrilling scenes of "Wild and Woolly" and has made such a hit with the new master that he has been permanently engaged as chief pet as well as supporting actor to the athletic favorite of the screen.

SPLENDID ARRAY OF RACING STEEDS ARE ARRIVING AT DAWSON

Running Races to be Numerous This Year But Other Classes are Not Overlooked.

Special to The Courier.
DAWSON, Sept. 8.—Never has such an array of racing steeds been assembled in Fayette county as that to be seen at the Dawson races September 11, 12, 13 and 14. Fayette county sportsmen and sportswomen have always had a hankering after running races. Manager Cochran kept this in mind when he arranged this year's race card and as a result 40 running horses have been entered. Most thrilling running events have been scheduled and fast time will be required to win the large cash purses.

In securing the saddle horses, the trotters and pacers haven't been overlooked by any means as there will be more than 100 bred animals in that class. The best racers in the United States and Canada are arriving here to be ready for the opening events, Tuesday. Fred Jamison, one of the country's foremost racing men, will have his entire stable here. One of his animals, Single G, which holds a two minute record, will attempt to lower all pacing marks here during the week.

The four gauges of Fayette county will have exhibits at the fair and all will be well represented on all four days. The agricultural display will far eclipse that of former years while the cattle display, according to present indications, will be the largest Fayette county has ever known.

Then as an added attraction Dutch Thompson, one of Uncle Sam's most daring and spectacular aviators, will defy death in his thrilling capers high in the air. His performance alone will be worth far more than the price of admission.

Arrangements have been made for special trains to this place and every attempt is to a record attendance during the four day session.

War to End In January

That Is to Say, the Power of the Beast Is to Be Overcome In Forty-two Months

By RICHARD COLLIER

Copyright, 1917, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The great mystery of the most occult book of the Bible is the verse in Revelation relating to the Beast and his number, 666. A comprehensive study of this verse, this number and the relation of combinations of this number to the present world war, the German Empire and the German Kaiser, and the number 666 as being prophetic of his character and acts. And furthermore, it is established from this verse that forty-two months is to be the duration of the war, which will bring to an end the power of the Beast in January.

REMEMBER THE SIXES.

Thirty-six is the combined number of verses in the thirteenth and seventeenth chapters of the book of Revelation, and they are the only chapters in the book containing eighteen verses each. Chapter XIII, verse 1, contains the great symbol, "Thirteen multiplied by nine equals 117, and one plus one plus seven equals nine."

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS
President American Society for Thrift

If you are a parent, what are you doing in the way of instructing your children in habits of thrift?

If you are neglecting this highly important matter, you are falling far short of your duty as a father or mother.

The war has taught us the value of the necessity of thrift. Thrift is individual preparedness. It has its mental and moral aspects as well as its material ones. If you are failing to teach thrift to your child, you are starting it out in life in an uneven race. You are neglecting the odds against it, for the man or woman of the future who has imprudent habits will stand a poor show of success.

This great war, with its colossal destruction, is going to bring about a right, new era that will last for many generations.

At the present time, there is a well defined movement in America teaching the teaching of thrift in public schools. Parents' patriotic duty.

When we consider that in America 95 out of every 100 of our citizens, who reach the age of 60, are dependent upon their daily earnings or on others for their support, we realize that it is high time this matter were taken up thoroughly and scientifically.

If America is to be equipped with thrifty men and women, capable of holding their own in the commercial struggle between nations, their success will have to be based on efficiency of which thrift is the foundation.

Every parent and every school teacher must realize that the teaching of thrift to our children is a patriotic duty.

At the present time, there is a well defined movement in America teaching

MY FOURTEEN MONTHS AT THE FRONT

An American Boy's Baptism of Fire

By WILLIAM J. ROBINSON

Copyright, Little, Brown & Co.

The most graphic account of the great war that has yet been written comes from the pen of a twenty-two year-old boy who has just returned from France where as dragoon, guardman, dispatch rider and motor car driver he served fourteen months under the British flag. Out of thirty-one motorcycle dispatch riders he was one of four survivors.

A German sniper was killed one night and the fellows who brought him down decided to play a joke on an Irishman in their regiment. They took the body of the sniper and carried it about a hundred yards off the road where they propped it up against a tree and also fixed a rifle to its shoulder. Then they went in search of the Irishman. When they found him they told him that he had been ordered to go up the road and hunt for a sniper who was putting at the passing traffic. The Irishman took his rifle and went out in search of the German. Of course he found him for he couldn't have passed without seeing the trap which had been laid for him. The minute he caught sight of the gray uniform he dropped behind a pile of hay which was lying on the side of the road and started firing. At the supposed sniper the fellows who had sent him up there came along and without being observed by the object of their joke proceeded to enjoy the fun. The Irishman couldn't understand how it was possible for him to miss his mark at such a short range and at each shot he was swearing at his luck. Finally he hit the body so many times it fell over and it was not until then that he realized how he had been fooled.

CHAPTER IV

ANOTHER sniper incident was the case of a Belgian boy only fourteen years old. On a road which was much used for transport we noticed that nearly every night some of our officers would be shot. Some went on for some time and no one could explain it. One day one of our fellows brought in this kid and said that he had found him with a German rifle and ammunition in his possession. The boy was cross-examined and finally admitted that it was he who had been shooting officers on the Ouderdom road. He said that he had been furnished with the rifle and told where he got his ammunition every day. He said he had instructions not to shoot any officers with red in their uniform (staff officers). Now why he should have received such an order as this was a mystery to me.

He said that he had been at it for two weeks and during that time he had bagged sixteen officers. He said he received 6 francs (about $1.20) for every officer he shot. He was taken to the rear and shot at once. We tried to follow up the information he had given as to where he had received his ammunition but his friends had all gone, so I suppose they had been warned.

About this time too we caught an old man eighty-two years old. In broad daylight he was out with a pair of nippers cutting our wires. We caught him dressed as a woman and women dressed as men. We caught people flying pigeons from their houses. In fact we caught spies doing almost everything to give information.

We were always trying to make the trenches we had taken over from the French a little more comfortable. We made wooden structures for the bottom of them besides the lookout platform. From empty oil drums we made braziers, and these in particular were mighty agreeable at night.

The country for a couple of miles back of the trenches was deserted. The people had fled leaving practically everything. Chickens and pigs were running wild and it was surprising how quickly they got almost as wild as the wildest animals.

A pig hunt with live barometer is a very amusing thing to watch. Get about twenty fellows after a pig and they have their work cut out for them. The pig gives them a good run for their money but in the end they eventually get him and then comes the march back to camp with the pig held aloft on the ends of several barometers.

Chicken flapping is great fun too, but it requires patience. You take a long piece of string and tie a little piece of bread to the end of it. You find a spot where there are chickens about. Scatter some crumbs around and also drop the piece of bread on the ground and of the string. Then you find a convenient tree and sit down with the other end of the string in your hand and wait for the chickens to "bite." When one comes to your piece of bread you begin jerking it nearer to the tree behind which you are hiding. When it comes within striking distance you jump as if you were falling on a foot ball and if you are lucky you will have chosen for dinner.

I was out one day in a motor with a staff captain and Dave Smith, the heavyweight champion whom I bumped against during my first days in the army. We had been up to a brigade headquarters and were on return trip. I had taken a shorter way coming back and it was along a very narrow road. Dave was sitting in the front with me and the captain was in the middle. We were howling about at a fairly good pace and I had visions of being back in time for dinner.

I pointed a few cavalrymen away ahead of us but they were so far ahead I didn't pay much attention to them. The first time I saw we were striking anything out of the ordinary was when Dave grabbed my rifle out of the back and began firing over the wind shield. Then I took another look and saw the cavalrymen were Germans and there were seven of them.

"The road was so narrow that there wasn't a ghost of a chance to turn around and I figured that if we rushed them we could bluff our way through. Whereas if we stopped they would see that they outnumbered us two to one and the chances were we would get the worst of it. I was so excited I was trembling all over and the captain was shouting orders at the top of his voice. Dave was the only cool man in the car and he was sending shot after shot at them as calmly as if he were on a rifle range. He shouted to me, 'Go like hell! Crowd 'em off the road!'

When they saw how we were gaining three of them left the road and hit out across country. I thought Dave must have hit the other fellow for he simply put the spurs to his horse and stuck right to the middle of the road. He didn't attempt to fire at us at all. He was just going for all he was worth. When I saw this I started after him in earnest, and he didn't have a chance in the world. That car had done seven or eight miles an hour on her test, and I hardly gave German horses credit for such speed as that. As we got closer to him Dave quit firing for it would have been murder to shoot a man in a trap such as he was in. He kept to the center of the road though and he wouldn't give an inch.

I was blowing that old siren for all it was worth and I opened the cut-out to make all the noise I could trying to scare his horse off the road and the animal wanted to get out of the way too but the rider held him in.

At last Dave said, 'I'll make him move' and he sent a bullet so close I'll bet he could have kissed it as it went by. He gave way then all right and so he did I pulled up alongside of him. As we came up he pulled a revolver and fired two shots which just went over my head. Dave leaned over and caught him by the leg. He yanked him clear of the saddle and slung him into the back of the car. He landed on top of the captain and those two were so mixed up you couldn't tell one from the other.

I stopped the car as quickly as I could and we soon had him saying 'Uncle' though he fought like a wild cat for a few minutes. The captain got the worst of it for he had a beautiful shiner and the skin off his knuckles. When we searched him we found thirty-three English ten shilling notes on him. He had taken them from some of our fellows of course but what made us mad was that the captain would not allow us to keep them.

He said it would not be honest but I noticed that when we handed him over to some French cavalry a little later they didn't hesitate about taking them, and Dave and I sat in the car and watched them splitting it among themselves. I felt rather sorry for the poor devil for he said that he and the rest of his squad had been hiding for five days and five nights and that they didn't know where they were. They had become desperate and decided to run for it in the open. The others came in and surrendered later in the day.

Supplies are brought across the channel daily. The railway lines run straight down to the docks so the goods are put on the trains as they are taken out of the ship. Each division army corps and army has its own rail yard, or in other words each one of these units has its own station in which its supplies are delivered. Every unit has its own supply column which is made up of any number of motor trucks the total varying according to the strength of the unit. These motor trucks pull up on each side of the train and the supplies are shifted in a very short space of time. Each motor truck is loaded with only one kind of goods and as the column leaves the station each unit carries the same kind of goods. Group them selves together so that when they finally move off ten trucks of meat may be leading the column followed by various units of truck loads of food groceries, clothing, hay and grain, petrol and mechanical supplies. In this way the goods are all dumped together and they practically form a great big pile for each article.

The first dump as it is called is a place cleared away on the side of the road where the men may deposit the supplies so that it will be convenient for the horse transport to come and get them. Here the goods are unloaded and the motor column returns to headquarters. After it is dark the horse transport comes down from the trenches, loads its wares and immediately returns to the trenches where the supplies are to be used by each unit for distribution to the smaller units.

The motors complete their work in an incredibly short time. They have seven or eight miles to carry their loads and in some cases even farther yet within two or three hours from the time they leave their camps in the morning they are back again and the army has been provided for another day.

To each motor vehicle three men are assigned. They are known as the first, second and third drivers and all of them qualified chauffeurs. In case anything happens to the first driver the others are there to take his place. The first driver has the care of the engine and the driving of the truck while the other two men have the greasing and oiling and cleaning of the vehicle and they also assist in the loading and unloading of supplies. The motors are in

WHAT THE SECRETARY OF WAR SAYS.

"The War Department approves of their enterprise (that of those who take part in raising the Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund) and thanks them in behalf of men—home-lick soldiers and sailors who will be cheered not merely by the kindly gifts themselves but still more by the spirit of cordial and homely sympathy which inspires them."

NEWTON D. BAKER,
Secretary of War.

"EMPTY!"

"Gun Smoke Everywhere—

But not a whiff of TOBACCO SMOKE to cheer a fellow up!"

THE English "Tommies" have their pipes kept filled by the folks at home. The French "Poilus" never want for a smoke—their friends are "on the job." The "Anzacs" have all the tobacco they can use sent them by their loved ones.

And now the time has come for Americans to send little packages of happiness to our "Sammys" in the trenches and our "Jackies" with the fleet. These lads are defending our lives and fortunes. We must show them our appreciation.

Besides facing the foe, our boys must experience homesickness, loneliness, dreary hours in the trenches, uncomfortable days in torpedo-boat destroyers. Tobacco cheers them; home and friends loom up in the fragrant puffs. Help us to give the boys at the front the "smokes" they crave and need. Even if you object to tobacco personally, think of those whom it comforts and let your contribution come without delay!

25c Keeps a Fighting Man Happy For a Week—$1 Sends a Month's Supply of Tobacco—ACT!

Each quarter buys a package of tobacco and cigarettes worth 45 cents enough to make one of your defenders happy for a week. One dollar makes him and his trench mates glad for a month. Those who can afford it should adopt a soldier and keep him supplied with tobacco for the duration of the war. One dollar a month does it. Small and large contributions solicited.

A War Souvenir For You—A feature of this fund is that in each package is enclosed a post card addressed to the donor.

The space for this advertisement is given free. The services of those who manage the fund are donated. Every cent collected goes into the purchase of tobacco comfort for our soldiers and sailors. Do your part!

Here is a sample of the letters of appreciation that come back to Canada and England from the lads who have been comforted. Our "lads" will receive similar letters.

spected daily and if not in perfect running order they are at once taken care of by the column workshops. These workshops are very efficient and it is remarkable what thorough work they can turn out. They are each fitted with a large force bench vice, the lathe being run by a small motor cycle engine provided for that purpose. If for any reason the column is unable to repair a motor that vehicle is sent to one of the bases where there are stationary workshops and a new truck is sent back to replace it. The mechanics in these workshops are all trained men and are obliged to pass severe tests before being accepted for the work.

Many of them are men who have worked on the building of cars in the factories in England and in cases like this they are allowed to specialize on the cars they are familiar with. The only other mechanics who can claim to be their superiors are those of the Royal Flying Corps and they are absolutely the cream of the mechanical world and are one of the highest paid bodies of men in the British army.

Another branch of the mechanical transport which is very much up to date is the department of stores and accessories. The men in this department are not necessarily trained men but they must be good managers as they keep in stock all spare parts which are likely to be called for. Besides this they have charge of the petrol oil grease carbide fires for light cars and, in fact everything that a likely to be used on an automobile. The petrol is all sent from England in two gallon tins. These tins are sealed when they are filled and if a seal is broken when a tin of petrol is issued to a driver or if it appears to have been opened he may refuse it and demand one with the seal intact. In this way the chance of receiving defective or impure petrol is avoided.

There are practically all known makes of motor trucks and cars at the front, as many of them were commandeered at the beginning of the war. Then again all the motor manufacturers in England are working day and night to keep the armies supplied with these vehicles. There are also a good many American makes in use there.

The work of the chaplains at the front is not spoken of very much yet they work as hard and do as much good as any men in any other branch of the service. They are usually attached to the royal army medical corps. I have seen a chaplain holding service in a field on a Sunday morning and during the service the enemy commenced to shell some huts close by. I finally believe that if it had not been contrary to worship he would have continued to worship just the same as though nothing was happening.

The royal army medical corps is a tremendous unit, and there too, will be found some of the bravest men in the army even though they are not combatants. This corps is always referred to as the R. A. M. C. and the British Tommy speaks of it as the Red All My Comrades."

LESSON NO. 24.

Army Courtesy.

You are careful to observe the ordinary courtesies in your civilian life. You would soon make yourself offensive to all your friends if you were in the habit of passing them with a cold stare or a discourteous nod.

These customary rules of good breeding apply in a slightly different form in the Army. There is the same reason for them in the Army as in civil life. Courtesy helps to make the great Army machine run more smoothly. It is the outward sign that the right relations exist among officers and men.

These right relations should be given expression both within the military camp and outside. "Courtesy among military men is indispensable to discipline; respect to superiors will not be confined to obedience on duty, but will be extended on all occasions." (Army Regulations, par. 4.) The obligation to show proper courtesy is binding upon officers just as well as upon men. The commanding general of the Army is required to be courteous to you, just as you are required to be courteous to him.

Importance of Correct Form. Courtesy among military men is shown by speaking and acting in a respectful manner. It is shown also by using the correct form of recognition. This correct form when meeting or addressing commissioned officers is known as the military salute.

"In the old days the free men of Europe were all allowed to carry weapons, and when they met each would hold up his right hand to show that he had no weapon in it and that they met as friends. Slaves or serfs, however, were not allowed to carry weapons, and slunk past the free men without making any sign. In this way the salute came to be a symbol of sign by which soldiers (free men) might recognize each other. The lower classes began to imitate the soldiers in this respect, although in a clumsy, apologetic way, and thence came into civil life the custom of raising the hand or nodding as one passed an acquaintance. The soldiers, however, kept their individual salute, and purposely made it intricate and difficult to learn in order that it could be acquired only by the constant training of all real soldiers received."

"To this day armies have preserved their salute, and when correctly done it is at once recognized and never mistaken for that of the civilian. All soldiers should be careful to execute the salute exactly as prescribed. The civilian or the imitation soldier who tries to imitate the military salute invariably makes some mistake which shows that he is not a real soldier; he gives it in an apologetic manner, he fails to stand or march at attention, his coat is unbuttoned or hat on awry, or he fails to look the person saluted in the eye. There is a wide difference in the method of rendering and meaning between the civilian salute as used by friends, or by servants to their employers, and the military salute, the symbol and sign of the military profession." (Manual for Noncommissioned Officers and Privates, sec. 6.)

Proper Way to Salute. In order to give the salute properly when you are without arms, first assume the position of a soldier (as described in a preceding lesson), or if you are walking carry yourself at attention. Look the officer you are to salute straight in the eye. When he is a few paces away from you "raise the right hand smartly till the tip of the forefinger touches the lower part of the head dress or forehead above the right eye, thumb and fingers extended and joined, palm to the left forearm inclined at about 45°, hand and wrist straight. Continue to look the officer you are saluting straight in the eye and keep your hand in the position of salute until the officer acknowledges the salute or until he has passed. Then drop the hand smartly to the side. The salute is given with the right hand only." (Manual for Noncommissioned Officers and Privates, sec. 6.) It will be well for you to practice this movement before the looking-glass and be prepared to execute it properly as soon as you get into uniform. It is one of the things that will help to make you in the early days in camp as possessing the bearing of a good soldier. When you get an opportunity, watch closely to see how Regular Army men salute. Note

A WIDE VARIETY OF BOOKS FOR THE CAMP LIBRARIES

Many Authors Being Recruited to Help Lighten Life at Front.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Besides pushing its campaign to raise $1,000,000 for the construction, equipment and operation of soldiers' libraries at the thirty-two cantonments and camps of the country and also supplying the sailors and the sick and wounded with books the committee on camp libraries of the American Library Association has begun the recruiting of authors to help lighten life for "the boys" in quarters at the front and on the sea.

So far one hundred twenty-five celebrated writers have been drafted, with a total of about 650 volumes, and the committee has not yet got below the letter G in the alphabetical list of authors. The roster starts with W. J. Abbott, who is drawn on for six volumes and reaches A. K. Brown, who has thirteen books named.

Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," is down for twenty-eight books, with Sir A. Conan Doyle at twenty-one and Charles Dickens and Robert W. Chambers at twenty each. And prominent in the list is Mr. Tyron Raymond Cobb, better known to fame as "Ty," who once wrote a book which he called "Battling Dan," that may appeal to the soldiers in both sport and attacks on the enemy.

The list is not based merely on books popular in libraries, for a study was made of the books that soldiers actually are fond of reading at present. Book stores were examined to ascertain the titles most called for by men, the section on military tactics was submitted to the War Department and approved by the military authorities, and numerous titles were included after consultation with representatives of the National War Work Council of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Incidentally, the books in the camp libraries will be distributed from the main library building through the Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus buildings acting as branch libraries.

In the list of books to be used for over-seas camps, the committee on camp libraries feels that many, if not all books on the present war should be omitted. Relief provides that the soldiers in France have enough of war without the need of books on that subject, but such conditions are not thought to apply in the United States.

By request, a special list is being compiled for the mess boys and the younger men in the service. Just to pick a few of the selected books at random, the are "Battle Fields and Victory" and "Naval History of the United States" by W. J. Abbott; "Told in a French Garden, August, 1914," by Mildred Aldrich; "The General Idea," by John Kendrick Bann and a volume by the same author on "Mr. Bonaparte of Corsica"; "Yankee Ships and Yankee Sailors," by James Barnes; "West Point, Wyoming," by C. L. Burnham, sounds as though it might appeal to many of the officers, and "The Sky Pilot," by Ralph Connor, should find favor with both the chaplains and the aviators.

"Who Goes There?" by Robert W. Chambers, seems an appropriate title, and "Pigs in Pigs," by Ellis Parker Butler, may be news to veterans at the front who find their sausage and pork pudding made up of sawdust and nails and other strange ingredients. The establishment of camp libraries will in no way interfere with the work of the Red Cross, but rather will supplement the work of that and other relief organizations. It is not too late to arrange with the Carnegie Librarian in your city to send your collection of books for this purpose.
